

Monatiquot River

Welcome to the Monatiquot River! Two rivers (Farm River and Cochato River) join near the Braintree Golf Course to form the Monatiquot River. The Monatiquot River then flows toward East Braintree where it becomes tidally influenced and known as the Fore River.

If you are here in late spring, you may see fish swimming upstream. River Herring live in the ocean and swim upstream in the spring to reproduce in fresh water. River herring are prey for larger fish species and help support New England fisheries.

The Monatiquot River Restoration project is located a few miles upstream. That project will allow river herring to reach reproductive habitat. For more information on the Monatiquot River Restoration Project see

<https://braintreema.gov/310/River-Fisheries-Restoration>

